CALLING FEMALE FOUNDERS: PITCH FOR CONNECTIONS, NOT CAPITAL

As part of the Women & Tech Conference, TechConnect West Virginia invites women entrepreneurs to participate in a Connections Pitch—a supportive, high-impact session where founders share what they're building and ask the audience for specific help.

Each selected founder will have 5 minutes to:

- Introduce their business or idea
- Share where they're stuck or scaling
- Clearly ask for connections, expertise, partners, customers, or resources

This is not a traditional pitch competition—there are no judges, no scores, and no pressure. The goal is simple: make meaningful connections that move your business forward.

WHO SHOULD APPLY

- Women founders at any stage (idea to growth)
- Tech-enabled, innovation-driven, or scalable businesses
- Entrepreneurs seeking mentorship, partnerships, customers, talent, or guidance

WHAT YOU'LL GET

- Visibility with a statewide audience
- Warm introductions and follow-up support
- A chance to clearly articulate what you need next

APPLICATION DEADLINE: 1.30.26
