

Indigenous TECH CONF.

Globally growing the Largest Indigenous Tech Conference

Vancouver | January 20-21, 2026

ABOUT US

The Indigenous Tech Circle is an Indigenous-led community dedicated to achieving equitable outcomes for Indigenous people through technology. By connecting leaders, tech professionals, students, and change-makers, the Circle strengthens the Indigenous tech ecosystem. The community is built upon core values such as building community, celebrating Indigenous contributions to tech, being of service, sustainable growth, and continuous improvement. Members foster a safe, culturally inclusive environment, highlight Indigenous achievements in technology, support one another, and promote organic, sustainable development. The Circle emphasizes learning and sharing experiences to lay a strong foundation for future generations, embracing a decolonized approach to innovation.

BEYOND AN EVENT: A MOVEMENT

This is more than just a gathering—it's a catalyst for change. By uniting Indigenous leaders, tech professionals, and allies, we are forging pathways for innovation, equity, and sustainable growth. Together, we are shaping a future where Indigenous knowledge and technology converge to create lasting impact for generations to come.

Value 1

Amplifying Indigenous voices in tech.

Value 2

Building bridges for collaboration and innovation.

Value 3

Creating sustainable opportunities for Indigenous Peoples.

WHO SHOULD ATTEND?

1 Indigenous Tech Professionals

Whether you're a developer, designer, or product manager, you'll connect with peers, mentors, and industry experts while discovering clear pathways for career growth and professional development.

2 Tech Leaders

As a leader in the tech industry, you'll have the unique opportunity to engage directly with Indigenous innovators and gain deep insights into the challenges and opportunities shaping the Indigenous tech sector.

3 Investors and Ecosystem Partners

You'll discover promising Indigenous-led startups, explore investment opportunities in groundbreaking technologies, and contribute to building a vibrant, sustainable Indigenous tech ecosystem.

4 Government Representatives

Your participation will deepen understanding of government's crucial role in advancing Indigenous innovation, while exploring concrete ways to foster economic reconciliation and empower Indigenous businesses.

WHY THIS MATTERS

Amplifying Indigenous Voices

The Conference provides a platform for Indigenous voices to be heard and celebrated, showcasing their contributions to the tech sector and shaping its future.

Bridging the Gap

We're committed to breaking down barriers and building meaningful connections between Indigenous and non-Indigenous tech leaders, creating opportunities for collaboration and growth.

Creating Sustainable Impact

Fostering lasting change through inclusive practices and supporting the development of Indigenous-led tech initiatives that drive economic and social impact.
